

Wolke Overseas has established partnerships with over 800 universities across 33 countries. While specific application deadlines vary by institution, program, and intake period, here's a general overview of common intakes and their typical application timelines:

United States:

- Fall Intake (August/September): Application deadlines usually range from November to January of the preceding year.
- Spring Intake (January): Deadlines typically fall between July and October of the previous year.

United Kingdom:

- Autumn Intake (September/October): For undergraduate courses, the UCAS deadline is generally in January of the same year. Some courses, especially medical programs, may have earlier deadlines in October of the preceding year.

Canada:

- Fall Intake (September): Deadlines usually range from December to March of the same year.
- Winter Intake (January): Deadlines typically fall between June and September of the previous year.

Australia and New Zealand:

- Semester 1 (February/March): Application deadlines are generally between October and November of the previous year.
- Semester 2 (July): Deadlines typically fall between April and May of the same year.

Europe (varies by country):

- Autumn Intake (September/October): Deadlines usually range from January to July of the same year, depending on the country and institution.

To obtain precise application deadlines for specific universities partnered with Wolke Overseas Education, it is advisable to book a free 1:1 session with Our Senior Expert Counsellor.